

What's new at Brielle Obstetrics & Gynecology?

1. We are happy to announce that we are collaborating with Brick Women's Physicians. This OBGYN group will be cross covering our call on the weekends. What does this mean if I'm pregnant and go into labor? There is a chance if you go into labor, Brick Women's Physicians will be on call. If they are, they will be delivering you. Dr. Ann Pagano & Dr. Darlene Morgan have had a long-standing cordial relationship with Brielle OBGYN. Unfortunately, you will not get to meet these wonderful physicians in the office; but they are trustworthy physicians that strive to give you the same quality of care you receive from our own physicians.
2. We will be joining the Hackensack Meridian team. What does that mean for you? Our goal is to have a seamless transition. The quality of care you receive will not change. This change will give us the ability to work as a team with other Hackensack Meridian physicians, allowing for smooth collaborative care.
3. COMING SOON! Nurse Midwife Michelle Montalvo! Michelle has over ten years' experience working as a Registered Nurse, with five of those years being a labor and delivery nurse. She graduated with her Masters in Nurse-Midwifery. Michelle is board certified, and her goal is to lay down deep roots within this practice as well as the community. She is an advocate for women's health and is ready to be there for you every step of the way.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to speak with your provider. They will be more than happy to answer any questions you may have. We want you to feel as comfortable as possible during this transition period. Thank you for being such loyal patients and we look forward to all the positive changes to come.

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael Keelan, Dr. Josephine Filardo, Dr. Diane DiTusa & Dr. Joanne Chang
